With so much to see and do, it can be hard to know where to start. That's why we've put together this list of 365 things to see and do in London, one for each day of the year. From the must-see landmarks to the off-the-beaten-path experiences, this guide has something for everyone.

1. Visit the Tower of London

The Tower of London is one of the most iconic landmarks in London. It has been used as a royal palace, a prison, and an execution site over the centuries. Today, it is home to the Crown Jewels and the ravens that are said to guard the Tower.

2. Take a walk across Tower Bridge

Tower Bridge is another iconic London landmark. It is a bascule bridge that crosses the River Thames. The bridge is open to traffic during the day, but it is raised to allow ships to pass through at night.

3. Visit the Houses of Parliament

The Houses of Parliament is the seat of the British Parliament. It is located on the banks of the River Thames and is one of the most recognizable buildings in London.

4. Take a stroll through St. James's Park

St. James's Park is one of London's largest and most beautiful parks. It is home to a variety of wildlife, including deer, pelicans, and swans.

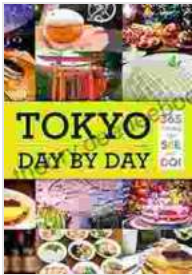

5. Visit Buckingham Palace

Buckingham Palace is the official residence of the British monarch. It is located in the heart of London and is one of the most popular tourist attractions in the city.
